1. Introduction

For 2015, there are several country options for hosting the GNOME.Asia Summit and one of them is Indonesia. The GLiB team proposed to the GNOME.Asia Committee and The GNOME Foundation that the upcoming GNOME.Asia Summit 2015 to be hosted in Depok, West Java, Indonesia. Depok City is a gate of West Java Province, 30 km from Jakarta, the capital of Indonesia. Depok having vision to be a comfortable service city with civilized society and accountable government, continues developing society based economy by focusing on service sectors optimizing the exist resource usage. For Business Information Technology development, Depok has a high potential students and activist FOSS, so Depok is a right place to disseminate of GNOME.

2. Local Organizers and Supporters

GNU/Linux Bogor, GLiB is a community or movement in the field of Information and Community Technology (ICT) with the main focus utilization in empowerment of the operating system GNU/Linux and free software and open source also promoted FOSS to general public. History of community linux Bogor start from some people in Bogor like Michael Sunggiardi (Bogor Internet), Mohammad Anwari (BlankOn Project), Yanmarshus Bachtiar, Utian Ayuba and etc. They try to discuss on online forum KPLI Bogor 1998-2000. GNU/Linux Bogor transformation from KPLI Bogor started on May 20, 2014. GLiB is the most active grass-root open source event in Bogor. Last June, we created event Kodekepo, Kodekepo workshop was organised by GLiB and MICRO IPB. A discussion with author programmer GNOME 3 App Development followed by 200 participants. In GLiB, we try to share knowledge and invite more people to using open source software.

Faculty of Computer Science Universitas Indonesia (FASILKOM UI) strives to maintain its position as an internationally acclaimed hub for research and education in the field of CS and IT in Indonesia. FASILKOM UI also strives to maintain its health and integrity as an organization, as well as to continue working towards Indonesia's advancement in these fields.

FASILKOM UI has the following mission statement:

- Produce graduates that are globally competitive
- Create, develop, and implement advances in information and communication technology that will be beneficial to the development of Indonesia as a nation.
- Be morally and socially responsible in our activities, ensuring that our staff and graduates upholds FASILKOM UI's principal values.

FASILKOM UI aims to provide high-quality, intelligently designed and well-organized service to the community, adhering to the faculty motto of "Excellence in Teamwork."

The diversity of the academic programs offered illustrates FASILKOM UI's commitment towards fulfilling the community's needs for knowledge in CS and IT. FASILKOM UI designs academic activities that integrates education, research, and duty to the community. All our human resources are deployed to facilitate those three aspects, in line with the high demand of skilled workforce in CS and IT fields.

10. Conclusion

By having GNOME.Asia Summit in Indonesia, we have the chances to introduce technology than being adopted by GNOME developers so it can be widely use later on. We strongly believe Indonesia is the best place to host this upcoming conference and workshop. We have a team of passionate in Open Source/FLOSS and plenty of experience in hosting events and conferences. We also have been talking to local communities FLOSS and potential sponsors as well as media partners about this proposal, all of them showed their supports to this GNOME event. If there any questions, please feel free to contact us. Thank you.

This proposal have been prepared by Bogor GNU/Linux User Group (GLiB). This proposal dedicated to all sponsorship who will be participating and supporting for our event and also the goal of this event is for increasing knowledge and share about operating system based on GNU/Linux especially Gnome.
